The Maralinga Test Site and Its History

In the 1950s and 1960s, the British government, in collaboration with Australia, conducted a series of nuclear tests at Maralinga, a remote area in South Australia. These tests were part of Cold War-era military research, intended to develop nuclear weapons. However, these tests had devastating environmental and social repercussions, particularly for the traditional Anangu people, the indigenous custodians of the land.

The Impact on the Anangu People
